

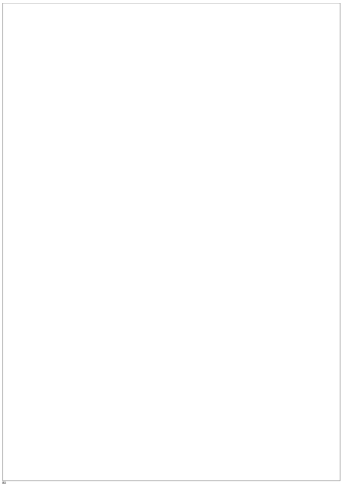

Figure 1: A diagram illustrating the relationship between the variables X and Y. The diagram shows a series of steps or processes leading from X to Y, with intermediate variables and arrows indicating the flow of information or influence.