

Figure 1: A diagram showing the relationship between the variables X and Y. The diagram consists of a large empty rectangular box, likely a placeholder for an image or diagram.